

CREATIVE NONFICTION

Taught by Dr. Deborah Ross

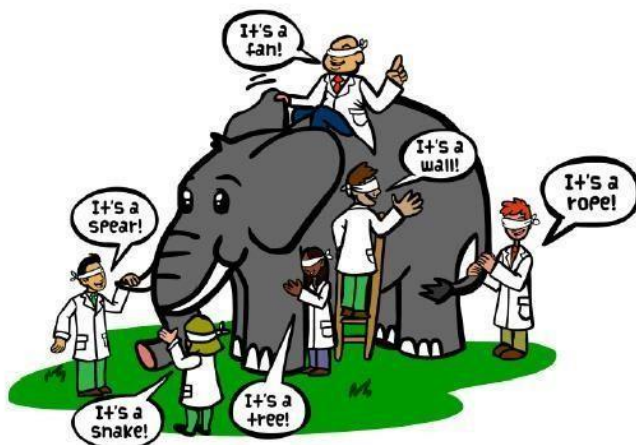

“Beauty is Truth, Truth
Beauty”

John Keats

Sometimes it seems as if Truth is hopelessly broken, reality fractured into individual perceptions.

But if we try hard to see ourselves and the world as clearly as possible—and if we share that vision by writing—we can take a step toward putting it back together.

In Creative Nonfiction, we will work together to repair the Urn and conjure up the Elephant of Truth!
